RECKLESS DRIVING IS CHARGED IN ACCIDENT

Mr. M. J. Hardy of South Bay was painfully bruised and lacerated early Thursday morning in an accident just south of the City limits when his car was struck by one driven by Jose Santiago. X-ray pictures indicate that he may have a broken rib also.

Santiago is lacerated around the head and possibly has a broken ankle, according to reports late Thursday.

Road Patrolman Bertrand who was called to the scene of the accident about eight thirty Thursday reports that Santiago will be charged with reckless driving in that he was beyond the middle stripe in the road.

According to reports it seems that Santiago had passed a car and failed to turn back into his own lane of traffic, and consequently slammed into Mr. Hardy's car.

VETERANS INFORMATION AND SERVICE

By Melvin T. Dixon
State Service Officer

Korea Vets Bypass GI Unemployment Pay. By and large, Korea veterans readjusting to civilian life have not resorted to their GI unemployment benefits.

In a recent survey it was revealed that only 57 out of every 1,000 discharged veterans covered by the 1952 Veterans Readjustment Assistance Act were paid jobless benefits during the first eight and one-half months of the program.

Under terms of the act, Korea veterans who served in the Armed Forces anywhere in the world since June 27, 1950, are eligible for unemployment compensation in the amount of $26 a week, up to a maximum of 26 weeks, for each week during which they could not obtain a job. Up to last September, 170,300 initial claims had been filed by jobless Korea veterans who were paid a total of $24,500,000 in compensation. The number of veterans who received one or more weekly payments, up to $26, was 114,000.

Two factors accounted for the low total of claimants, favorable opportunities for employment, and the requirement that veterans use up state unemployment benefits first.

The benefit, available to all Korea veterans, is administered for the Federal Government by the state employment security agencies. Under the law providing the program, eligible veterans who are also entitled to state or railroad unemployment insurance compensation, must first exhaust this benefit before they can draw federal aid.

Reservations for the play may be made by telephone or mail, addressing: Box Office, Passion Play Amphitheatre, Lake Wales, Florida.

The Saturday night presentation is in addition to regular performances each Tuesday, Thursday and Sunday until Easter. Last Saturday's performance on February 27th, and another on March 13th, were arranged to accommodate children and working adults who cannot conveniently attend at any other time.
Although reserved seats may be purchased for the regular performances, the Saturday night seats are sold on an unreserved basis. However, they are available in advance and only the capacity of the Amphitheatre will be sold. Every one holding a ticket will be sure of a seat. Current time is 8 pm at all performances.

He plans his annual campaign by said, consisting of the first of the year, speaking all over the State, shaking more than 100 hands at all places where he can meet one or more citizens, and conducting a thorough letter-writing program.

Carter was the leader in the famous Southern Governors' Rate Case, which resulted in the downward revision of freight rates in the Southeast. He has saved the freight rates on Southern manufactured goods from an increase of 10 to 15 percent, and has saved the people of Florida more than $100,000,000 in freight charges.

He has been State Hotel Commissioner since 1948. He is the only man in Florida to win re-election to this office. The Hotel Commissioner when Florida was first established as a great tourist state, Jerry Carter began many of the prime side to tourism, including state advertising, including state advertising, plumbing and sanitary codes, and a modern system of hotel inspection.

FUND FOR YOUNG FAIR

Chairman of the Belle Glade Fair reported to the Elks Club regular meeting Monday night that a total of $230 had been received from the sale of the bag and gold club of Mrs. Lovell D. Fair, father of Butch Fair, the teenager who was injured during the Christmas holidays from an accidentally discharged rifle.

Forced by continuous heavy hospital expense to liquidate whatever he could turn into cash, the father put his golf clubs up for sale.

Without the knowledge of the father the Elks Committee guaranteed the maximum effort, favored for the bag and clubs and held a drawing for the clubs, with Bennet Bell the winner.

Donations toward the purchase of the clubs amounted to $230 all of which has been sent to the father on behalf of the club.

More than two hundred Belle Glade residents thru these donations feel that they have done something towards the rehabilitation of this youngster and thru this action are conveying to the parents a sympathy deep and lasting.

The father has been transferred to the Patrick Air Force Base at Cocoa, Fla., U. S. Geodetic Survey.

STATE AIDS U. S. IN SNAP BEAN PRODUCTION

Florida farmers played a leading part last year in helping the U. S. produce an all-time record harvest of string beans for canning and freezing.

The state's crop of 30,000 tons of snap beans for processing, accounting for 10 percent of the national harvest, was the third largest in the country, pointed out S. D. Arms, American Can Company Atlantic Coast vice president. It was exceeded only by New York and Oregon.

Growers throughout the country produced an unprecedented 298,500 tons of string beans for canning and freezing, Mr. Arms added.

National Park Service finally is moving into a phase of the Everglades National Park development which has been long and eagerly anticipated.

"Flamingo", a historic little fishing village on the southernmost shore of the United States on Florida Bay, is to be converted next year into the first of the newest park's overnight centers for fishing and sightseeing parties.

Nearly a quarter-million dollars is earmarked for this area, and the work contemplated will include a large parking area, walks, paths, and roads; dredging, filling, and bulkheading for development sites and boat access areas; a power system, boat basin and pier, and test wells for the area.

Motel-type overnight accommodations for tourists are to be placed there, the first of such facilities in this giant reservation. But these will be built by federal funds, not with concessionaires and not with federal funds. Some will be over water.

"Flamingo" is situated about 45 miles southwest of Homestead, site of the park headquarters, and can be reached by motor over an improved park road. It is in the heart of the Everglades, attractive either for fishing parties or those who wish to view the park and its wildlife along the famous Shark river.

Last year visitors to the park numbered 296,773, an increase of 388,000 over the previous year, had in Jan. '54 an all-time record — 29,690 visitors — was set.

Also in the development program for the year is a $50,000 expansion of the FM radio system. In all, the park is to get $495,000 for the new year, of which $136,000 goes to management and protection, $61,000 for maintenance and operations, and $288,000 to development and construction.

Newnotes: Don't forget to remind your high school officials about our essay contest. Drs. E. C. Nance, Tampa U., has been appointed Florida's representative on a special advisory committee on civilian affairs by the Secretary of the Army. Senator Holland and I are sponsoring resolution for National Library Day.

Too Late To Classify

By Russell Key

One of the problems Floridians face this season of the year is the unexpected guest who pops in on you without warning. Being a Floridian you like to brag about the state and as you gallop hither and yon you become more or less lavish with invitations.

When you write to folks "up North" you urge them to come down and promise to show them around. You tell them "they ought to see Silver Springs and Cypress Gardens, take in the Florida State Fair and Gasparrilla activities, what the races at Sunshine Park or Fairchild at new Tampa Fronton. You promise to take them deep sea fishing and show them the Circus Winter Quarters and the Ringling Museum of Art at Sarasota."

When you get to describing all the things to see and do there just naturally get enthusiastic. And you mean it. Too. There is nothing you enjoy more than visiting friends and relatives especially on your tour. You like to see their eyes bug out and hear their gasps of astonishment and delight.

But you forget that there are only 24 hours in a day and that you are only one person. You also forget that at this season of the year you are pretty darn busy yourself with a flock of extra added duties that make it impossible for you to give them guests the time and attention you would like to give them.

You assure your friends they will welcome any time. You tell them not to even think about going to a hotel. You've got plenty of room at the house and make them stay at home. They can just come on out and make themselves at home. It never occurs to you that a lot of folks may decide to take you up on the offer and all decide to do so at the same time. Just when you are messed up with duties at the Fair and you are trying to work up some skits for the Press Breakfast at the Citrus Exposition, to say nothing of taking care of your own business at the peak of the season, a telegram comes from Uncle John and Aunt Minnie. Guess what, they will arrive the day before Gasparrilla. Later in the day a telephone call informs you that one of your best invitation and will be down with his family in a couple of days.

A letter from Cousin Willie tells you that he's just had a lucky break, his firm is sending him to Florida for a special job and he will be in Tampa next weekend.

Before you know it you find that on less than 16 persons are on your hands with only three beds available and everybody in your household booked up with duties that they just have to perform with little or no time available for attention to guests.

You take care of the first arrivals in your own home and then scurry around among the neighbors to try and find an empty bed or two. Most of your neighbors are in the same fix you are. You call the hotels to see if they can let you have a few rooms. They think you are trying to be funny. Anybody knows that you can't get rooms at a hotel at this time of year.

You try to explain that you were sincere when you invited them but had to let everybody would decide to come at the same time. You tell them it will just try and make the best of things for a few days you will be free to make good on all your promises.

Everybody is sympathetic. They say they understand. They apologize for bothering you but you are still behind the well known 8 ball.

SLEEP

There is no hard and fast rules to govern the number of hours required for sleeping. Actually the quality of sleep, not the amount, is what counts.

Some persons wake up tired after sleeping eight hours; others are fully refreshed after five. It is generally conceded that a person doing physical labor requires less sleep than one who spends mental effort. The ability to relax is the secret of restful sleep. Emotional tension contributes to muscular tension. The person who takes his problems of the day and those of tomorrow to bed with him is not able to relax. Instead he mentally wrestles with himself, accomplishing nothing by his staying awake. When he finally falls asleep, he is emotionally tired and sleeps fitfully.

In sleep all actions of the body are slowed down. Breathing is less deep, the pulse is less frequent and the conscious mind is at rest. All muscular systems tend to relax. The process sets much like the recharging of a battery and serves to restore energy.

But if the emotional mind remains "keyed up" there is no relaxation which is the essential factor in real rest. A person may sleep and not rest and conversely rest and not sleep. The ability to relax is the agent that must be developed by the person whose goal is sound sleep.

Insomnia or sleeplessness will not prove harmful. It is the night after night attacks of insomnia that should be investigated by the physician for these tend to break down the body forces.

Use of sleeping pills to induce sleep is not safe. Habits are formed and after again, and persons who use a drug frequently to induce sleep may be developing into addicts and creating a serious physical basis. On the other hand, there are some drugs, called depressants, which are of real value when used with the direction of the supervision of a physician. They are recommended when a physical or mental ailment calls for enforced rest.

THE UNITED STATES POLL

Democrats 51% Republicans 49% In National Vote For Congressmen

By Kenneth Fink, Director Princeton Research Service
Results of the latest nationwide "trial heat" of voter preference by Princeton Research Service's United States Poll show Democratic candidates for Congress (House of Representa-

"If the elections for Congress were being held today, which party would you like to see win in this state—the Republican or the Democratic?"

The following table shows the results nationally, among those who had an opinion on the above question, or who, if undecided, stated toward which party they leaned.

National Vote for Congressmen
(House of Representatives)
Democratic 51%
Republican 49%

Last November, the vote on the same question was Democratic 51%, Republican 49%—one percent loss for the Democrats and a 1% gain for the GOP over the past fifteen weeks.

Today's results represent the fifth of a series of U. S. Poll Congressional measurements. The question is asked at periodic intervals as a continuing feature of the United States Poll.

When today's results are stacked up alongside the national vote in the 1948, 1949, 1950, and 1951 Congressional Elections and the U. S. Poll measurements over the past nine months, the trend looks like this:

National Congressional Vote (House of Representatives)	%
1948	54.3
1949	48.3
1950	48.7
1951	49.8
United States Poll, May, 1953	51.0
United States Poll, August, 1953	50.0
United States Poll, October, 1953	52.0
United States Poll, November, 1953	48.0
Today's United States Poll	49.0

*Off-year (non-Presidential) election year.
In 1950, the Democrats won control of the House by a margin of 19 seats, although they received only 49.7% of the popular vote.

And in 1952, the GOP won control of the House by a margin of 3 seats. At the same time, they received only 49.8% of the popular vote.

It is a matter of record that only once during the 20th Century has the party in power increased its lead in an off-year election. That was in 1934, when the Democrats gained 9 House seats.

Today's survey results would indicate that unless the GOP can become more popular with voters across the nation, it will very likely lose some Congressional seats in the 1954 Congressional Elections—almost certainly losing control of the House of Representatives—albeit by a very narrow margin.

The Belle Glade Herald presents the reports of the United States Poll exclusively in this area.

FREEDOMS FOUNDATION AWARD WON BY MOVIE MAKERS WORKING HERE

The Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge, Pennsylvania, announced on Feb. 22, that the 1954 George Washington Honor Medal in the field of Documentary and Sales Motion Pictures was awarded to Americana Productions Inc. of Indianapolis, Indiana for their television film series, "My Home Town."

Of local interest is the fact, that there is a prototype organization from this motion picture organization presently at work in Belle Glade making a picture of the Glades area that will be included in this award winning series. The film, when completed, will be distributed coast to coast through the facilities of the Lakeside Television Co. in New York, and will bring the story of Belle Glade to the attention of the nation.

One copy of this twelve and half minute color film will be turned over to the Chamber of Commerce, and to be available for showings locally in schools, at club meetings, and to any interested groups.

The citation from the Freedoms Foundation that accompanied the award declared that Americana Productions was receiving this honor "for an outstanding achievement in helping to bring about a better understanding of the American way of life." This medal is one of the most notable and respected awards given in the area of documentary films. In this phase of the motion picture industry it ranks with the well-

HERE'S HOW...

MAKE AN EQUIPMENT SHED

A shed for handy storage of lawnmowers, bicycles, rakes, wagons and other garden and play equipment pays dividends in better maintenance and neatness.

A sturdy frame of 2 x 4's set on concrete or cinder blocks and enclosed with 1 x 6 lumber, may be painted or shingled to harmonize with the garage or house. The back of the shed may be fastened to an existing structure as shown in the small picture, or all four sides may be enclosed to form a completely separate building. First step in construction is to make the end frames on the ground. These are then stood up in place, and the 8-foot frame members are nailed to them.

The 1 x 6 lumber used for the siding is cut to fit snugly under the roof. Horizontal 2 x 4's should be added to the frame between each 2 x 4 upright for additional nailing surface. The roof lumber is cut 2 feet 6 inches long to provide an overhang.

The shed may be "doored" with 1-inch or 2-inch lumber. Or, if a brick, patio-type area is first laid, the shed may be set upon it, and the bricks will serve as a floor.

Further examination of the dollar value of finished manufactured products in excess of raw materials used, is one of the best measures of the contribution of industry to the economy of a State, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce pointed out recently. In 1952, Florida's manufactured goods were worth $623,634,000 more in finished condition than the raw materials used to make them. (Unofficial estimates place the 1953 figure near $630 million). The 81 percent gain is based on these value added figures.

A comparison of payrolls with the income earned from all sources by Floridians, is still another measure of the economic force of industry. In 1952 this payroll total was 8.1 percent of such income as compared with 6.4 percent in 1947.

The principal classifications of industry in Florida are given in this week's business review of the State Chamber's research and industrial division. Figures mean that this film will win the T. H. Freedoms Foundation Award next year. We certainly hope so, not only for the sake of Belle Glade and the publicity it will mean, but also because this town so richly deserves recognition of this kind.

FLOOD CONTROL WORKS PACE FLORIDA'S GAIN IN INDUSTRY ACTIVITY

The level of industry in Florida moved up 81 percent, 1947 to 1952, far outstriking all other Southeastern States in industrial advancement during this period, with this gain being made since flood control thru Federal Aid has been announced.

The dollar value of finished manufactured products in excess of raw materials used, is one of the best measures of the contribution of industry to the economy of a State, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce pointed out recently. In 1952, Florida's manufactured goods were worth $623,634,000 more in finished condition than the raw materials used to make them. (Unofficial estimates place the 1953 figure near $630 million). The 81 percent gain is based on these value added figures.

A comparison of payrolls with the income earned from all sources by Floridians, is still another measure of the economic force of industry. In 1952 this payroll total was 8.1 percent of such income as compared with 6.4 percent in 1947.

IT'S NEWS TO ME

by Amy Horton

Men are peculiar creatures when it comes to food. Let a woman knock herself out preparing lobster tails in wine for her husband and he'll say: "Gosh, can't we have meat and potatoes?" Yet they expect dinner to be different every night! But how can that lovely spud, the potato, keep its glamor year after year? Well, the famous Kitchen Korner has turned out a work-saving potato cutter that will cut 25 french fries in a single stroke, has written a little booklet called "All Eyes on the Potato!" Available free of charge (see ad on page 10) loaded with ideas. Most of them are for dinner variations, but here's a party treat idea for the holidays ahead:

HOT POTATO PUFFS

Prepare two kettles of deep fat. Cut your potatoes into bite-size pieces and fry them carefully. Fry them a few at a time in not-very-hot fat—about 275 degrees for three to five minutes. Jiggle them while they fry. When the time is up, lift the basket with the potatoes in it and dip it immediately into your second kettle. This fat will be very hot, at least 400 degrees. The potatoes will "pull" out like pop corn almost at once. Keep them in the very hot fat only a very short while—certainly not more than one minute. They are still there and serve at once.

Mrs. Damar's potato cutter is a great help in countless other recipes. French fries, the favorite "fasting-out" form of potato, can now be made at home with-minimum effort. Another blade cuts 49 shoestring potatoes in one stroke. The cutter's rust-proof, easily removable blades glide smoothly along tracks in an attractive frame of red or white baked enamel finish.

FREE BOOKLET OF POTATO RECIPES

If you would like a free copy of Mrs. Damar's booklet of potato recipes, just send a card with your name and address to Mrs. Damar's Kitchen Korner, Newark 5, N. J., and ask for her potato booklet.

NFA News

The officers and members of our NFA organization have been quite busy this week planning various varieties of vegetables in our local laboratory plot. The entire area has been plowed and disced by different members of the chapter with the use of the tractor and its attachments.

Plans are being made to place some of the vegetables we now have to harvest, on local market. Our plan is to sell what we can to local stores, display some of the produce at the county fair, and carry some to West Palm Beach to sell in stores.

The organization is now planning to work out plans for the annual banquet that comes off in April; also for participating in the NFA convention that comes off at Florida A. and M. University, Tallahassee, Florida, the first of June.

We are also working out projects that we want completed by April 15. When the evaluation committee will come down to evaluate the chapter's program.
